Because it feels good when doing good together!

ABN AMRO

Support to families in vulnerable conditions

ABN AMRO supports the NGO's TETO and Gerando Falcões, which work collecting and distributing donations destined to families in vulnerable conditions aggravated by the social isolation brought by coronavirus. The last campaign, Por uma quarentena mais justa, already made a significant impact on the lives of more than 600 families in São Paulo and about 35.000 families in Latin America.

Additionally, some ABN AMRO employees visited the headquarters of Gerando Falcões to see the impact this project has on the community's reality in early March this year. During the visit they also got to know the space where the children and teenagers are given some activities, such as music classes, that would not always be of easy access if not offered by the NGO.

SBM Offshore

SBM Offshore reinforces its commitment to Brazil and to one of its most important values, care

Initiatives have been developed to support communities and institutions in need, in addition to supporting researches that combat the spreading of the coronavirus.

"IDOR Integrated Research Program - COVID-19" is a program developed by the Brazilian Petroleum, Gas and Biofuels Institute (IBP) in partnership with D'Or Institute for scientific research and control of analytical data provided by COVID-19 tests in Rio de Janeiro. SBM Offshore sponsored the program investing approximately R$ 1 million in these surveys.

SBM also has an inside initiative called Programa Quarentena Solidária where the company invited its employees to make donations to be used in hygiene products, food and medicine for institutions and communities in the places where it operates in Brazil. The company donated an amount equal to that collected from its employees, totaling more than R$ 60.000 to be invested in products for poorest communities and institutions.
